Asian Churches Participate in Campaign Against Revision of Article 9 of Japan's Constitution

Representatives of several Asian churches at the fifth inter-religious conference, to mark the opposition to the Japanese government's attempts to revise the war, renouncing Article 9 of Japan's peace Constitution.

About 120 participants attended the global event held at the Mimami Mido Buddhist Temple in Osaka, Japan from 7-9 June, 2016.

In a communique adopted at the end of the conference the participants expressed concerns that, “ Revising Article 9 of Japan's historic peace Constitution will bring about serious instability in Asia region as it opens the door for Japanese militarism. The move by the current Japanese administration and the interpretation of the Constitution is a threat to constitutional guarantees and democratic governance in Japan”. Read More
