

WCC hosts panel on peace building

03 November 2016

Genève,
ville de la Réforme,
capitale internationale
et oecuménique,
cité de paix

As Geneva host celebrations of the 500th Anniversary of the Reformation on 3-4 November, the World Council of Churches with the Protestant Church of Geneva (EPG), the International Museum of the Reformation (MIR) and in collaboration with the Federation of Swiss Protestant Churches (FEPS), are pleased to invite you to attend a panel discussion on initiatives and the role of Geneva as “Peace Capital” of the world.

When: 3 November 20:00 – 21:00, followed by an aperitif

Where: Ecumenical Centre, 150 route de Ferney, 1211 Geneva, Switzerland

Panelists:

- Rev. Dr Olav Fykse Tveit, general secretary World Council of Churches
- Marilena Viviani, director Geneva Liaison Office UNICEF Public Partnerships Division, UNICEF
- Ralston Deffenbaugh, assistant general secretary for international affairs and human rights, Lutheran World Federation
- Rev. Fr Heikki Huttunen, general secretary, Conference of European Churches
- Philip Tanis, programme executive communication, WCRC
- Sharan Srinivas, director of research and advocacy, Right Livelihood Award Foundation

Moderator: Jan Dirk Herbermann, United Nations, president of the Association of Correspondents Accredited to the United Nations (ACANU)

Host: The World Council of Churches

Livestreaming: <https://www.youtube.com/user/WCCworld>

Interpretation: Interpretation is available from English into French

Media contacts: Please contact WCC director of communication Marianne Ejdersten: mej@wcc-coe.org, +41 79 507 63 63, or Claus Grue: claus.grue@wcc-coe.org