Christian Conference of Asia (CCA) condemns the violent response and shootings by the police on farmers in the Philippines and expressed solidarity with the leadership of the United Methodist Church in their continuing protection of some 3,000 farmers and tribal leaders who faced bullet shots by the Philippine National Police.

“We join hands with those who are struggling for basic human rights and justice, and urge the government and provincial authorities to provide adequate provisions and security to the farmers who are legitimately registering their concerns”, opined Christian Conference of Asia’s General Secretary.
